Elder Morgan Preaches His Last Sermon.

To the largest crowd ever assembled within the portals of the Paris Christian church Elder Carey E. Morgan preached his last sermon before entering upon his duties as pastor of the Vine Street Christian church at Nashville, Tenn., Sunday evening.

The services Sunday morning were well attended, but in the evening the various churches gave way for the occasion of Elder Morgan's last sermon and as a result every religious denomination was represented.

The spacious auditorium and lecture room which were thrown into one were crowded to the utmost, all the available seating space being occupied, while the galleries were taxed to their capacity, many being forced to stand.

At conclusion of the morning service Professor M. G. Thomson, one of the elders of the church, in a few well chosen sentences voiced the deep regret of the congregation at parting from their beloved pastor, and gave the following summary of his nine years pastorate in Paris: He has received about nine hundred persons into the church, married three hundred and twenty-five couples. Preached four hundred and twenty-five funerals, ministered to the poor and needy, comforted the distressed. Placed four missionaries in the fields, and promoted Christian fellowship.

Professor Thomson then read the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted by a rising vote of the congregation:

"Whereas, our beloved pastor, Elder Carey E. Morgan, has accepted a call from the Vine street church at Nashville, Tenn., and has by his resignation severed his relations as pastor of the Christian church at Paris, Ky.

Be it resolved: First, that we express our appreciation of his excellent services as our pastor and teacher during the last nine years.

Second, that we testify as to our confidence in him as a Christian man, an elegant gentleman, an accomplished scholar, and a true citizen.

Third, that we regard him as a sympathetic friend, a safe counselor, frank and firm in his convictions of right and wrong.

Fourth, that we admire his genial, pleasant manner, which is always conducive to the highest pleasure in the family and social circle.

Fifth, that we deplore the loss of his example and influence, not only in our own church but in the entire community.

Sixth, that we feel that the church and Sunday school have lost a zealous worker, and a most efficient teacher in his estimable wife.

Seventh, that we commend him and his family to the Vine street church at Nashville, Tennessee, and send greetings. What has been our loss will be their gain. May God bless him and his family, and may happiness and great results attend his and their labor in his new field, is our earnest prayer.

Respectfully submitted,
"THOS. HELM CLAY,
"C. ARNSPAGER,
"M. G. THOMSON,
"J. S. WILSON,

Dec. 31, 1911. Committee.
Elder Morgan took up the pastorate of the Paris church on June 1, 1903, and lacks only a few months of serving his congregation for nine years. During the time he endeared himself to the people of this community, regardless of religious faith, and won the admiration of his congregation beyond measure.

In addition to his local work Elder Morgan is a trustee of his Alma Mater, Butler College, Indiana. Curator of Transylvania University, member of Board of Trustees of Kentucky Christian Missionary Society, member of the Acting Board of the America Christian Missionary Society, Life Director in Foreign Missionary Society, member of the Christian Unity Commission of the Disciples of Christ, member of the Advisory Committee of the National Society for Broader Education, and President for ten years of the Kentucky Christian Missionary Society.

The Paris church prospered to a wonderful degree under his pastorate, and he has been found at the front, working like a devoted Christian to comfort those in distress.

Elder Morgan will leave Thursday for Nashville to assume his new pastorate and while it is with regret that his congregation and the community give him up, it is to be felt that he has fulfilled his mission and seeks a new field to continue his work for Christ.

Local Market Steady.

Poultry and eggs on the local market are steady. The demand of the past week was not so great as that of the week preceding the holidays. Dressed hens are retailing at 16 2-3 cents, and turkeys at 20 cents per pound. Fresh eggs command 35 cents per dozen, and packed eggs being 30 cents. Country butter sells for 25 cents per pound.

Bourbon Dealer Sells Fine Horses.

Mr. Sanford Carpenter, the well known stock dealer of Millersburg, has made several good sales of horses in the past few days. He sold to George Easterbrook, of Denver, Col., at a good price Sanford Chieftain 4433, by King Chieftain. This horse belongs to both the saddle and harness class and was a winner at the Blue Grass Fair. Mr. Carpenter sold to Mr. W. C. Sharp, of Arkansas, the yearling stud, Robert E. Lee, 4345 by King Chieftain, for $1,000; to J. R. Mosier & Co., of Jefferson City, Tenn., he sold Tennessee Chieftain for $600. He also sold to Jones & Vaughn, of Newport, Tenn., Gladys Chieftain 739, by King Chieftain, for $400.

"WE KNOW HOW"

You Consider Style Correct Fashion!

One of the most important things to consider is clothes; but you don't think it ought to take the place of good quality, neither do we.

Here you get the best of both; we seek out the best fashions from all sources, and suggest a lot of smart styles for our special trade.

We will show you some new ideas in Suits and Overcoats you won't see anywhere else.

What Tariff Board Proves.

The Taft tariff board exonerates woolen manufacturers of anything like taking advantage of high tariff rates to advance prices. The board's report would make it appear that the woolen trust wouldn't do such a thing.

But the report isn't altogether useless, because it proves beyond successful contradiction:

First—That Schedule "K" is indefensible; it proves this conclusively and for all time.

Second—It confirms practically every charge made against the woolen schedule by Democrats and Progressive Republicans.

Third—It proves that the American people are victims of extortion from wool manufacturers.

Fourth—And that President Taft's veto of the Underwood-LaFollette bill was against the interests of 90,000,000 consumers of woolens; that it was absolutely unjustified, unnecessary, and therefore unforgivable.

Tariff protects trusts only.

Louis D. Brandeis, the famous Boston lawyer, who looks, acts, walks and talks like Abraham Lincoln, while testifying before the Senate trust investigating committee, charged how the trusts received the greatest protection have destroyed trade's unionism, reduced wages, increased working hours, and driven Americans out and brought foreign immigrant labor into their mills.

He exposed the injustice and futility of the Tobacco trust settlement, effected by the United States Supreme Court, and said the rule laid down amounted to this "What man has illegally joined together, let no court put asunder."

In contrast with the record of the tariff protected trusts, Mr. Brandeis presented instances where prices have been reduced, and wages raised, in industries operated under free competition.

Yet the standpatters would have the workingmen believe that the Payne-Aldrich high protection wall was put up exclusively for their benefit.

The Law's Rewards.

United States Circuit Court Judge Peter S. Grosscup, of Chicago, has managed to make a millionaire out of himself while sitting upon the Federal bench. Besides, getting rich himself he appointed Marshal E. Sampson, his court clerk, receiver for a traction company that was in litigation in his court at a salary of $25,000 a year.

John M. Harlan, one of the really great jurists in this nation's history, and one of the best friends the common people ever had on the Supreme bench, died a few weeks ago. His daughter recently has accepted a position as secretary to earn her living.

Number Decreasing.

The Germans and Irish in the United States are rapidly decreasing in number, while the Italians, Russians and natives of Austria-Hungary and Finland have more than doubled in number since 1900. This is a report made by the Census Bureau.

The bureau calls it a "matter of very considerable interest and importance." In the census of 1900 there were reported 1,615,232 persons born in Ireland, and last year the number had decreased to 1,351,400. Ten years ago the United States had 2,813,413 persons born in Germany, and last year there were but 2,493,200.

The numbers of natives of Italy went up from 483,963 in 1900 to 1,341,800 in 1910; Austria-Hungary, from 636,968 to 1,658,700, and Russia and Finland, from 640,710 to 1,706,900.

Increases are shown in the number of arrivals from England, Canada, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Mexico.

Railroad Statistics.

The following railroad statistics were given out by the State Railroad Commissioner:

Total miles of road in Kentucky, 3,8810.

Built during past year, 179 miles. Gross receipts for 1910, $46,783,004; for this year, $49,065,187.

Increase in gross receipts, $2,287,183. Increase in net receipts, $1,119,356.

During the year 49 employees were killed and 1,168 injured.

People killed during the year, including passengers and people on the tracks, 109.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Sick Women Strong.
Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this now-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

30 Years.

Hawking, spitting, foul breath, discharges of yellow matter permanently cured with pure botanical ingredients. To prove it we will send you a SAMPLE TREATMENT FREE. Catarrh is not only dangerous but it causes ulcerations, death and decay of bones, kills ambition, often causes loss of appetite, and reaches to general debility, idiocy and insanity. It needs attention at once. Cure it by taking Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) It is a quick, radical, permanent cure because it rids the system of the poison germs that cause catarrh. At the same time Blood Balm (B. B. B.) purifies the blood, does away with every symptom of catarrh. B. B. B. sends a tingling flood of warm, rich, pure blood direct to the paralyzed nerves, and parts affected by catarrhal poison, giving warmth and strength just where it is needed, and in this way making a perfect, lasting cure of catarrh in all its forms. Druggists or by express, $1 per large bottle, with directions for home cure. Samples sent free by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe your trouble and free medical advice given. Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association, think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and its the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequaled for lagriple, asthma, hay fever, croup, quinsy, or sore lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer.

Morehead Lyceum Course.

The next third number of the Morehead Lyceum Course will be on January 4, when Mr. Geo. E. Colby, one of the greatest living cartoonists and a very delightful speaker, will be at the Opera House. This will be one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the entire course, and those who have never had an opportunity to hear and see a really great cartoonist at his work will be well repaid for attending. The prices for this great entertainment will be as follows: Lower floor 50 cents; balcony, 35 cents; gallery, 20 cents.

Subscribers can get their tickets at Mitchell & Blakemore's this morning and the seat sale will be opened on Wednesday.

Will Visit Local Lodge.

Mr. J. W. Bacon yesterday received a telegram from District Deputy A. A. Hazelrigg, of Mt. Sterling, to the effect that he would make an official visit to Paris Lodge of Elks tonight. It is requested that all Elks attend.

Toney Relates Experience in Chicago.

A writer in the Louisville Times has the following of Fred Toney, a former Blue Grass League slab artist:

Fred Toney, Blue Grass League pitcher of unusual reputation, who is now with Charley Murphy's National League team, has been the subject of a number of stories since he has been with the Chicago team, the majority of which have been told with Toney in the role of the "goat." The big pitcher tells them on himself in a great many instances, and he is one of the most popular players in the Chicago outfit the stories go all around the circuit.

While in Louisville last week Tom A. Sheets, president of the Lexington, Ky., team, added a new one on Toney to the list, and, as usual, it came originally from Toney. The two old friends were together in Cincinnati not long ago, and the former Winchester star was telling his Lexington friend of his experiences in Chicago.

Fred had concluded a recital of instances in the Windy City to show how men on the Chicago team had helped to get him along, and particularly now the older pitchers had taken an interest in him to teach him all the tricks of his profession. He had just finished some high praise on Mordecai Brown.

"But Chicago is a peculiar place," said Toney. "It's the hardest place in the country to get acquainted with. Why, I lived within two or three squares of the ball park where I was on duty when in Chicago, and there never has been a time all this year that I could find the park by myself without a lot of difficulty, and I hardly know what part of the city it is in yet. Chicago is a queer place."

Handsome Gift.

Sunday afternoon at the meeting of Bourbon Division No. 486, O. R. C. Secretary J. M. Smelser was presented with a handsome emblem ring. The ring was the gift of the members of the local division of which Mr. Smelser has served as secretary for four years, yesterday entering on his fifth term and is a token of the high esteem in which he is held by the local organization.

Easy Method of Making Salt.

The process of making salt at the springs in Salinas, Mexico, is very simple. The water, which contains 4 to 7 per cent. salt, is pumped into tanks; it is then evaporated to 25 to 28 per cent., beginning to crystallize at 18 per cent. The water is then drained off and the salt swept out.

Paris Banks in Fine Condition.

The statements of the Paris banks at the close of the year 1911, show a healthy and prosperous condition of these institutions. The total deposits of the five Paris banks exceeds $1,600,000. The Agricultural Bank declared its usual semi-annual dividend of five per cent and carried $3,000 to surplus and individual profits and shows deposits of $226,000.

The Deposit Bank declared its usual dividend of four per cent and carried the remainder of its profits to tax account and individual profits. Its individual deposits amount to $371,756.43, which is the largest individual deposit ever shown by this flourishing institution.

The Bank of George Alexander & Company paid a semi-annual dividend of eight per cent and carried $1,000 to surplus and showed individual deposits of $275,000.

The Bourbon Bank had about the best six months' business in the history of that institution, its earnings amounting to $3,500, in addition to its semi-annual dividend of four per cent and its individual deposits amount to $375,989.02, which is the largest ever shown by this bank, and is an income of $107,749.51 on its deposits on December 31, 1910, their loans amounting to $485,631.28.

The First National Bank showed a gross earning for the six months of $12,413.81. They did not declare a dividend but carried the sum of $10,000 to surplus. Their deposits show $375,442.64, and their loans $431,729.30.

Will Begin Labors Today.

The Bourbon County Board of Tax Supervisors, appointed a few days ago by Judge Denis Dundon and composed of B. M. Renick, Geo. Rassenfoss, Ed Rice, J. T. Estes, E. P. Claybrook, S. S. Ardery and W. G. Talbot, yesterday received their commissions and will begin tomorrow going over the books of Assessor McClintock.

Railroads to Issue "Penny Scrip."

All railroads South of the Ohio and East of the Mississippi Valley will inaugurate a novel departure in railroad ticket selling on January 7 next. For the first time in railroad history in this country the roads in this territory will issue what is known as "Penny Scrip" Books.

These books will each contain 2,500 coupons of the value of a cent a coupon and will be sold for $20 a book. The books will be handled in the same manner as mileage books are now. The owner will present the book to the ticket agent and have detached enough coupons to make the regular tariff rate.

The issuing of these "penny scrip" books was suggested by the Louisville & Nashville railroad and had been in consideration in that office for over three years. There is much complaint about mileage books but by the new "penny scrip" each passenger can check his own mileage at all times. All he has to do is to find the regular tariff rate and figure the fare for himself.

This "penny scrip" book will be the first $20 book ever sold by the Louisville & Nashville. This new scrip will reduce the fare to slightly over 2 cents a mile. The average fare now is about 3 cents a mile. By buying 2,500 coupons for $20 the passenger saves 20 per cent on his fare. With a "penny scrip" book, therefore, the passenger will pay about 22.5 cents a mile.

Notice to Consumers.

January 1, 1912. We will discontinue all interior wiring and gas fitting and repair work and confine our business strictly to the supplying of Gas and Electric Current.

There are a number of good firms in town doing gas fitting and electric wiring whom we recommend to our consumers.

In order, however, to accommodate our consumers, and insure them getting the best results, we will continue to handle the best grades of Gas and Electric Lamps and have reduced the price to actual cost and will sell only for SPOT CASH at the company's office. We will keep no book of accounts.

As to leakage or repairs, the pipes, wires and fixtures are the property of the consumer, with which we have nothing to do, but can be attended to by firms in that line of business.

All complaints will be given immediate attention and promptly cared for up to and including the meter, and where necessary the service will be cut off until the trouble is remedied.

Immediate notice must be given.

With all our efforts directly given to the furnishing of Gas and Current we hope to give Paris the very best service and merit your commendation.

YOU RISK NO MONEY.

Our Reputation and Money Are Back of This Offer.

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to us in any way whatever if you accept our offer. Could anything be more fair for you. Is there any reason why you should hesitate to use our claims to a practical test.

A most scientific, common sense treatment is Rexall Oderlies, which are eaten like candy. They are very pronounced, gentle and pleasant in action, and particularly agreeable in every way. They do not cause diarrhea, nausea, flatulence, griping, or other inconvenience. Rexall Oderlies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

We urge you to try Rexall Oderlies at our risk. Three sizes, 10c, 25c and 50c. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. G. S. Varden & Son.

Final Adjustment Sale!

The Last Stage of Our Re-organization! Final Payment Must Be Made to the Retiring Members of the Firm January 15th, and We Therefore Inaugurate This Sale to Raise Necessary Cash Immediately, So as to be in entire readiness to cope with the great crowds that will be attracted by this very important event, our store was closed on Monday January 1, to make the necessary re-arrangement of stock and other preparations.

Last June we announced to the public a re-organization of this store brought about by the retirement of Mr. Henry Kaufman and Mr. Benjamin Straus from this firm, Mr. Simon Wolf, Mr. Dolph Wile and Mrs. M. Blumenthal having bought out their interests. Ever since then we have made rapid progress in the Fine Showing.

We wish to call your attention to the statement of the Deposit Bank of this city on page 4 in this issue. They show the largest deposits and loans that the institution has ever shown. The deposits show an increase of over $130,000 since December one year ago, and the stock value has increased more than $40 per share in January, one year ago, as shown by recent sales, thereby making the stockholders more than $40,000.

A Healthy Institution.

We direct attention to the statement of the condition of the First National Bank which appears in this issue of the News on page 4. It not only has a large increase in the deposits, but the earnings for the past six months are $12,413.81 which is a fine showing. The increase in the surplus of $10,000 making a total of $70,000. Read the statement over, compare it with other banks and be convinced that Paris has one of the best institutions of the kind in the State of Kentucky.

Break Up Dance But Suffer Penalty.

An incident, resulting in a near-riot, occurred Friday night during a dance at the Elks Hall which was being given by the young men of the county. Two young men of this city made their appearance on the floor of the hall with two women of ill-repute, the sight of which engaged the male participants in the dance. One of the boys was badly used up when several sprang upon him, and were administering a severe beating when several others interceded and put a stop to further hostilities. The other boy, with the two women, made his escape as soon as it became apparent that his companion was in for a warm time. The performance had the effect of breaking up the dance and in the male court Saturday morning the male offenders were given a fine of $27.50 each.

—Miss Edna Earl Green, daughter of the late Mr. Robert Green, and a sister of Mr. Blanton Green, of Paris, and Mr. Samuel James Dorchester, a St. Louis, Mo., banker, were quietly married at Maysville on Christmas day.

The bride, who has been living at St. Louis, was making a visit to her sister, Mrs. Hamlet Sharp, in Maysville, and by arrangement the bride groom came on from St. Louis, to claim his bride, the wedding taking place at the Sharp residence at two o'clock in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends. Rev. R. L. Benn, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church in Maysville, performing the ceremony. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dorchester left for St. Louis.

DEATH.

—Little Alexander Duke Woodford, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Woodford, died Friday morning at eight o'clock. The burial was held Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the Paris cemetery. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved young parents.

—Mr. Bedford Deaver, aged thirty-five years, died Sunday morning at ten o'clock, at his home on the Jacktown pike.

He had been in ill health for about three years, suffering with rheumatism lung and heart trouble, but the direct cause of his death was uraemic poison.

Mr. Deaver is survived by his wife, who was Miss Campbell, of Carlisle, and three children, the oldest of whom is seven years of age, and the youngest three. Two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Stone and Mrs. Fannie Langston, and one brother, Mr. Lee Deaver, also survive.

The burial will take place this morning at 11 o'clock, the procession leaving the residence at ten o'clock. Services at the grave by Elder Carey E. Morgan.

—Mr. John D. Bruer, aged 76 years, died at his home on Fourth street in this city Saturday night of general debility. He has been in ill health for some time and his death has been mournfully expected for several days.

Mr. Bruer was born near Maysville, Ky., October 27, 1835, and was married March 8, 1865 to Miss Mary J. Gault, of Cincinnati.

For many years he was book keeper for A. Finch & Company, of Maysville, and was well known to all the older citizens throughout that section of Kentucky as a man of the highest integrity.

Mr. Bruer came to Paris January 1, 1895, accepting the position of book keeper for the Power Grocery Company which position he held for fifteen years, or until declining health compelled him to retire from active work. He was known to the merchants in this section as "Judge" Bruer.

He united with the Methodist church early in life, and lived a consistent Christian life. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Miss Louise Bruer.

The funeral services were held at the residence yesterday morning at 11 o'clock conducted by Rev. J. S. Simms, of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. J. L. Clarke, of Winchester. The remains were taken to Maysville on the 12:05 p. m. train to Mayville for burial.

Gave Up Hope

"I suffered five years, with awful pains, due to womanly troubles," writes Mrs. M. D. McPherson, from Chadbourn, N. C. "They grew worse, till I would often faint. I could not walk at all, and I had an awful hurting in my side; also a headache and a backache."

I gave up and thought I would die, but my husband urged me to try Cardui, so, I began, and the first bottle helped me. By the time the third bottle was used, I could do all my work. All the people around here said I would die, but Cardui relieved me."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

For more than 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings, and making weak women strong and well. During this time, thousands of women have written, like Mrs. McPherson, to tell of the really surprising results they obtained by the use of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

Cardui strengthens, builds, restores, and relieves or prevents unnecessary pain and suffering from womanly troubles. If you are a woman, begin taking Cardui, today.

SOME HINTS ON SWEEPING

Broom in the Hands of the Inexperienced Often Does More Harm Than Good.

It is not an easy matter to sweep well, at any rate, if one judges by experience, for when a broom is put into the hands of the inexperienced more harm than good generally results from the use of it.

Light sweeping and soft brooms are desirable. Many a carpet is prematurely worn out by careless sweeping.

In sweeping thick plied carpets always brush the way of the pile. By doing so it may be kept clean for years; but if the broom is used in a different way the dust will enter the carpet and soon destroy it.

If the carpet covers the whole floor of the room and it is nailed down, place the chairs and other articles of furniture which can be easily moved in the middle of the room, pin up the curtains and cover the couch with an old sheet.

Pieces of damp paper may be sprinkled round the sides of the room, and then sweep with a carpet broom toward one place.

Take short strokes, being careful not to raise the broom much. Sweep the corners and edges with a small whiskbroom.

Put two tablespoonfuls of ammonia into one gallon of water; wring a cloth out of this and wipe the carpet. This will remove the dust and help to brighten the carpet.

PLAIN WASHING SODA'S USES

Chemical is Great Saver of Work and Almost Indispensable to the Housekeeper.

Uses for common washing soda: One heaping tables spoonful of soda to a pint of water (boiling) will clean the ugliest burned pan by letting it soak a few hours.

In boiling clothes a few tablespoonfuls of soda in the water will eradicate stains from clothes and lend a snowy whiteness. I have used it on the finest quality of white goods with entire satisfaction. It will not injure the material.

To clean a coffee or tea pot made of granite or lined with porcelain, fill up the utensil with cold water, set on stove to boil, and add a lump of soda as large as a hazelnut to the water. It cleanses perfectly. In fact, sweetness is insured after its usage in every instance.

To clean silver: Put a level tablespoonful in dishpan, add a quart of cold water, put on fire to boil (put silver in pan in the cold water), and wipe immediately after the water boils up. Result: Perfectly shined silver ware without any trouble. These are hints I learned for myself on the usages of soda.

Lemon Jelly.

An excellent rule for lemon jelly, which is nice either as a dessert by itself or as a foundation for an elaborate sweet, calls for two cupfuls of boiling water, two small lemons, half a big cupful of sugar and two large tablespoonfuls of gelatine, or as much as will stiffen the mixture when it becomes cold. Soak the gelatine in barely enough cold water to cover it, and when it becomes soft melt it completely by setting the cup it is in in boiling hot water. Then stir it immediately into the lemon juice, water and sugar, which should be heating on the stove. Let the jelly harden on ice or snow after pouring it into a mold.

Mince Meat.

Four pounds of beef, one pound suet, half pound citron, one pound raisins, one pound currants, half pint sugar, half pint vinegar, half pint of New Orleans molasses! one small glass of brandy, a glass either of currant or loganberry jelly, one nutmeg, one tablespoon cloves, cinnamon and allspice. Boil the beef, pepper and salt to taste. Cut off all the fat and gristle. Add one and three-quarters more of apples than meat. Chop apples fine. If not sweet enough add more sugar. Boil two hours on back of stove. This will keep several weeks. Seal as you would fruit.

Honey Candy.

Put half a pound of honey into a saucepan, add half a pound of sugar, one tablespoonful of cream and a dessertspoonful of cold water, then mix and stir well. Allow to stand for one hour. Put over a moderate fire, stirring gently until it is stiff enough to pull. Pour into buttered tins. When cool enough to handle pull and cut into small pieces.

Queen Charlotte Pudding.

One pint of bread crumbs, one quart of milk, one cup of sugar, yolks of four eggs, butter size of a walnut. Bake half an hour. Take out of the oven and cover with currant jelly. Beat whites of the four eggs, one cup of sugar, juice of one lemon, spread over the jelly and brown in oven.

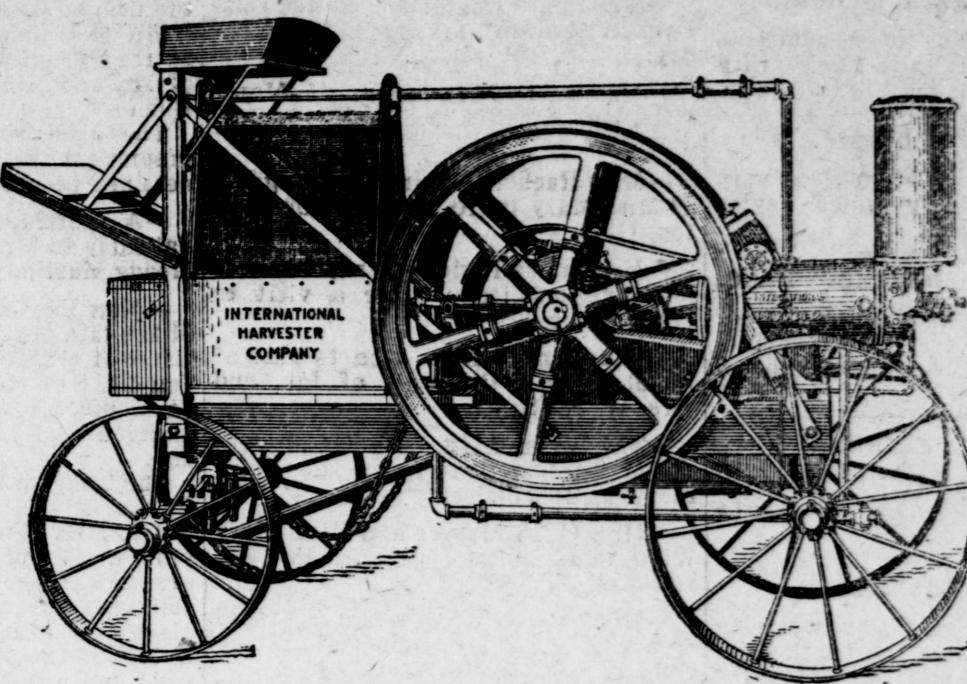

Lemon Meringue Pie.

Grated rind and juice of large lemon, one cup sugar, two egg yolks, one tablespoon cornstarch, butter size of walnut. Add enough cold water to fill pie tin. Cook until thickened. Bake crust first, put in filling, spread over top beaten whites of eggs, with one tablespoon of sugar. Brown in oven.

Hastens Egg Beating.

Some housekeepers believe that eggs will beat more quickly if a pinch of salt is added to them.

FREE REMEDY HELPS CHILDREN

Many a mother has learned of a way of avoiding sickness in her family, especially among the children, by the use of a free sample bottle of the famous laxative, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This offer of the doctor's to send a free sample bottle has been responded to by thousands of women in all parts of America.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a truly wonderful laxative and especially adapted to the needs of babies and children because it is pleasant to taste and no child will refuse it. Then, it is mild and never gripes. It is all that a child's remedy should be, though it is a good laxative for the whole family because it is effective at all ages. It is not dynamic like salts, pills and powerful cathartics, which should not be given to children under any circumstances.

For the free sample address him.

Germs Spread in Skin

Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin troubles are caused by tiny germs at work in the skin. Unless these germs are promptly destroyed they rapidly multiply, gnawing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes that awful itch, and what seemed a mere rash may grow worse and develop into a long-time and towering skin disease with its years of misery.

Don't take any chances! Destroy the germs at the beginning of the trouble with that soothing and cleansing wash, the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema. A 25c bottle will prove this to you.

G. S. Varden & Son.

ITCH! ITCH! ITCH!

Scratch and rub—rub and scratch—until you feel as if you could almost tear the burning skin from your body—until it seems as if you could no longer endure these endless days of awfully torture—those terrible nights of sleepless agony.

Then—a few drops of D. D. D. the famous D. D. D. Specific and, Oh! what relief! The itch gone instantly! Comfort and rest at last!

D. D. D. is a simple external wash that cleanses and heals the inflamed skin as nothing else can. A recognized specific for Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rash and many other skin troubles.

We can give you a full size bottle of the genuine D. D. D. remedy for $1.00 and if the very first bottle fails to give relief it will not cost you a cent.

We also can give you a sample bottle for 25 cents. Why suffer another day when you can get D. D. D.?

G. S. Varden & Son.

We have had experience with many cases of skin trouble but have never seen such remarkable cures as those from D. D. D. Prescription. Instant relief from the very first application.

We are so confident that D. D. D. will reach you in time that it will cost you nothing if the very first full size bottle fails to make good every claim.

If you have skin trouble of any kind we certainly advise you to drop in and investigate the merits of D. D. D. anyway. We know that D. D. D. will help you.

Busy Embroiderers.

As early as 1773 over 6,000 women were engaged in stitching the fine embroideries which made St. Gall famous even in those early days. The number had increased by the beginning of 1800 to 30,000, the industry having extended to Baden, Wurtemburg, Bavaria, western Austria and all the country about Lake Constance.

Slow Progress.

A friend met a youthful and lazy author on the street.

"How is your novel getting along?" he asked.

"Oh, I've begun it," answered the author proudly. "The two did not meet again for several weeks. At the next encounter, the friend again asked:

"Well, how's your novel?"

The author paused a moment.

"Let me see," he said, "where did I tell you I was in it when I saw you the last time?"

"You said you'd begun it," answered the friend.

"Well—I've still begun it," confessed the author, guiltily.

Platinum.

Referring to platinum, books say that "this metal has never yet been successfully deposited as a protecting coating to other metals" and add "the metal to be plated must be coppered."

ASHAMED OF HER FACE

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Pickard of North Carolina. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema I can say that now there is no sign of Eczema and that was three years ago."

This is but one of thousands of cases in which D. D. D. has simply washed away the skin trouble. D. D. D. cleanses the skin of the germs of Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin diseases, stopping it instantly, and when used with D. D. D. soap the cures seem to be permanent. Nothing like D. D. D. for the complexion.

Try a bottle 25 cents, enough to prove the merit of this wonderful remedy.

We can also give you a full size bottle for $1.00 on our absolute guarantee that if this very first bottle fails to give you relief it will cost you nothing.

The Ideal Reading Lamp

Opticians agree that the light from a good oil lamp is easier on the eyes than any other artificial light.

The Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made.

It gives a strong, yet soft, white light; and it never flickers. It preserves the eyesight of the young; it helps and quickens that of the old.

You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for other lamps, but you cannot get better light than the low-priced Rayo gives.

Made of solid brass, nickel-plated. Easily lighted, without removing shade or chimney. Easy to clean and rewick.

CHAPTER I.

A still and sultry dusk had fallen, closing an oppressive, wearng day; one of those days whose sole function seems to reside in rendering us irritably conscious of our too-close castings of too-solid flesh; whose humid and inert atmosphere, sodden with tepid moisture, clings palpably to the body, causing men to feel as if they crawled, half-suffocated, at the bottom of a sea of rarefied water.

The hour may have been eight; it may have been not quite that, but it was almost dark. The windows were oblongs, black as night in the yellow walls of O'Rourke's bedchamber in the Hotel d'Orient, Monte Carlo.

I have the honor to make known to you the O'Rourke of Castle O'Rourke in the county of Galway, Ireland; otherwise and more widely known as Colonel Terence O'Rourke; a chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France; sometime an officer in the Foreign Legion in Algiers; a wanderer, spendthrift, free-lance, cosmopolite—a gentleman-adventurer, he's been termed.

He was dressing for dinner. The glare of half a dozen electric bulbs discovered him all but ready for public appearance—not, however, quite ready. In his shirt sleeves he faced a cheval-glass, pluckily (if with the haggard eye of exasperation) endeavoring to outmaneuver a demon of inanimate perversity which had entered into his dress tie, inciting it to refuse to assume, for all his coaxing and his stratagems, that effect of nonchalant perfection so much sought after, so seldom achieved.

Patently was the thing possessed by a devil; O'Rourke made no manner of doubt of that. Though for minutes at a time he fumbled, fidgeted, fumed, it was without avail.

His room itself was in a state of considerable disorder—something due mainly to O'Rourke's characteristic efforts to find just what he might happen to desire at any given time without troubling to think where it ought properly to be.

Something of this confusion, mirrored in the glass, was likewise reflected in O'Rourke's eyes, what time he paused for breath and profanity. "Faith, it's worse than a daw's nest, the place," he admitted, scandalized. "How ever did I—one lone man—do all that, will ye be telling me?" He flung out two helpless baffled hands, and let them fall. After a meditative pause he added: "Damn that Alsation!"—with reference to his latest and least competent valet, who had but recently been discharged with a flea in his ear and a month's unearned wage in his pocket. "For knowing me ways," sighed O'Rourke, "there was never anyone the like of Danny."

For as many as three livelong days this man had been reduced to the necessity of dressing himself with his own fair hands—and that at least thrice daily, who did nothing by halves. And, somehow, mysteriously, his discarded garments had for the most part remained where he had thrown them, despite the earnest efforts of the femme de chambre to restore something resembling order from this man-made chaos. For servants all liked well the O'Rourke, improvident soul that he was, freehanded to a fault.

You are invited to picture to yourself O'Rourke as invariably he was in one of his not infrequent but ever transient phases of affluence: that is, a very magnificent figure indeed. Standing a bit over six feet, deep of chest and lean of flank, with his long, straight legs he looked what he had been meant to be, a man of arms and action. His head was shapely, its dark hair curling the least in the world; and, incredibly stained, a transparent brown, his features were lean, eager, and rendered very attractive by quick boyish eyes in whose warm blue-gray depths humor twinkled more often than not, though those same eyes were not seldom thoughtful, a trace wistful, perhaps, with the look of one who recalls dear memories, old friends and sweethearts loved and lost. . . . For he had begun to live early in life and had much to look back upon, though for all that it's doubtful if he were more than thirty at the time he became involved in the fortunes of the Pool of Flame.

For the rest of him, barring the refractory tie, the man was strikingly well groomed, while his surroundings spoke for comfortable circumstances. On the authority of the absent and regretted Danny, who had long served the O'Rourke in the intimate capacities of body-servant, confidant and chancellor of the exchequer (this last, of course, whenever there happened to be any exchequer to require a chancellor), there was never anyone at all who could spend money or wear clothes like himself, meaning the master. And at this time O'Rourke was ostensibly in funds and consequently (as the saying runs) cutting a wide swath. Heaven and himself only knew the limits of his resources; but his manner a Monte Cristo might have of that on nothing and a glass of muddy water!—risking me money as if there was no end to it, throwing it away in scandalous tips like any drunken sailor! And all for the scant satisfaction of behaving like a fool of an Irishman. . . . 'Tis sickening—disgusting; naught less. . . . I'm thinking this night ends it, though; come the morning I'll be pulling up stakes and striking out for a healthier, simpler place, where there's something afoot a man can take an interest in without losing his self-respect. . . . I'll do just that, I will!"

This he meant, firmly, and was glad of it, with a heart immeasurably lightened by the strength of his good resolution. He began to hum the old tune that the unknown woman's voice had set buzzing in his brain, and broke off to snap his fingers defiantly at the Casino. "That for ye!" he flouted it—"sitting there with your painted smile and your cold eyes, like the brazen hussy ye are—Goddess of Chance, indeed!—thinking ye have but to bide your time for all men to come and render up their souls to ye! Here's once ye lose, madam; after this night I'm done with ye; not a soul of ye will ever again cross your paths. I'll have ye to understand the O'Rourke's a reformed character from the morning on!"

He laughed softly, in high feather with his conceit; and, thinking cheerfully of the days of movement and change that were to follow, the song in his heart shaped itself in words upon his lips.

"I'm Paddy Whack
From Ballyhoo,
Not long ago turned soldier—O
At grand attack,
Or storm or sack,
None than I will prove bolder—O!"

His voice was by way of being a tenor of tolerable quality and volume, but untrained—nothing wonderful. It was just the way he trolled out the rollicking stanza that rendered it infectious, irresistible. For as he paused the voice of the woman that had reminded him of the song capped the verse neatly.

"An' whin we get the route
Wid a shout,
How they pour!
Wid a ready right-about
Goes the bould soldier-boy!"

O'Rourke caught his breath, startled, stunned. "It can't be—" he whispered. For if at first her voice, subdued in distance, had stirred his memory with a touch as vague and thrilling as the caress of a woman's hand in darkness, now that he heard the full strength of that soprano, bell-clear and spirited, he was sure he knew the singer. He told himself that there could be no two women in the world with voices just like that; not another than he knew could have rendered the words with so true a spirit, so rare a brogue—tinged as that had been with the faintest, quaintest exotic infection imaginable.

But she had stopped with the verse half sung. His pulses quickening, O'Rourke leaned forth from the window and carried it on:

"O, 'tis thin the ladies fair
In despair
Tear their hair!
But—'Tis divile a bit I care!"
Cries the bould soldier-boy!"

There fell a pause. He listened with his heart in his mouth, but heard nothing. And it seemed impossible to surmise whence, from which one of all the rooms with windows opening upon that side of the hotel, had come the voice of the woman. She might as well have been above as below him, or on either side: he could not guess. But he was determined.

Now there was beneath his window a balcony with a floor of wood and a rail of iron-fligree—a long balcony, extending from one corner of the hotel to the other. At intervals it was splashed with light from the windows of chambers still occupied by guests belated or busy, like himself, with the task of dressing for the evening. The window to his left was a light; that on his right, dark. With half his body on the balcony, his legs dangling within the room, O'Rourke watched the opening on his left with jealous, breathless expectancy. Not a sound came therefrom. He hesitated.

"If that weren't her room, I'd hear somebody moving about," he reasoned. "Tis frightened she is—not suspect in 'tis me. . . . But how do I know 'tis herself? . . . Faith! could me ears deceive me?"

With that he took heart of hope and broke manfully into the chorus, singing directly to the lighted window, singing the first line with ardor and fervor, with confidence and with hope, singing persuasively, pleadingly, anxiously, insistently.

"For the worl'd is all befo're us—
he sang and then paused. He heard no echo. And again he essayed, with that in his tone to melt a heart of ice:

"For the worl'd is all befo're us—
And now he triumphed and was lifted out of himself with sheer delight; for from the adjoining room came the next line:

"And landladies ado-ore us—

Unable to contain himself, he chimed in, and in duet they sang it out to the rousing finale:

"They ne'er rayfuse to see-ore us,
But chalk us up wid joy
We taste her tap, we tear her cap—
O, that's the chap
For me," cries she—
"Whroo!"
Isn't he the bould soldier-boy?"

As the last note rang out and died the next window was darkened; the woman had switched off the light.

He heard a faint rustle of silken ruffles. "'Tis herself," he declared in an agony of anticipation—"herself and none other! And I'm thinking she'll be coming to the window now!"

He was right. Abruptly he discovered her by the reflected glow from the illumination behind him. He was conscious of the pallid oval of her face, of a sleek white sheen of arms and shoulders, of a dark mass of hair, but more than all else of the glamour of eyes that shone into his softly, like limpid pools of darkness touched by dim starlight.

Inflamed, he leaned toward her. "Whist, darling!" he stammered. "Whist! 'Tis myself—'tis Terence!"

But she was gone. A low, stifled laugh was all his answer—that and the silken whisper of her skirts as she scurried from the window. He flushed crimson, waited an instant, then flung discretion to the winds, and found himself scrambling out upon the balcony. Heaven only knows to what lengths the man would have gone had not the slam of a door brought him up standing; she had left her room!

So she thought to escape him so easily! He swore between his teeth with excitement and tumbled back whence he had come. Regardless of the fact that he was still in his shirt-sleeves he rushed madly for the door. On the way a shooting-jacket on the door, perhaps in revenge for neglect and ill-treatment, maliciously wound it self around his feet and all but threw him headlong; only a frantic clutch at the footfall of the bed saved him. Kicking the thing savagely off he flung himself upon the door and threw it open. His jaw dropped.

The lift shaft was directly opposite. Before it, in more or less patient waiting, stood a very young and beautiful woman in a gown whose extreme candor was surpassed only by the perfection of its design and appointment—both blatant of the Rue de la Paix; a type as common to the cognoscenti of Monte Carlo as the Swiss hotel porters. But O'Rourke did not know her from Eve.

"The divile!" said he beneath his breath.

He was mistaken; but the young woman, at first startled by his uncanny appearance, on instantuous second thought decided to permit him to discover that twin imps, at least, resided in her eyes. And when his disappointment prevented him from recognizing them, her dawning smile was swiftly erased and her ascending eyebrows spoke eloquently enough of her haughty displeasure. Synchronously the lift hesitated at that landing and the gate clanged wide; the young woman wound her skirt about her and showed him a back which at any other time would have evoked his unstinted admiration. Then the gate shot to with a rattle and bang, and the lift dropped out of sight, leaving the man with mouth agape and eyes as wide.
